The Interesting Story of Three British Immigrants Who Have Met With Success In Canada

Premier King pointed out the other day that there are, in the Canadian Government, three ministers who came to Canada as British immigrants: Mr. Dunning, from England; Mr. Hecman, from Scotland; and Mr. Hecman, from Ireland. The cabinet of eighteen members, three Old Countrymen hold the important portfolios of Railways, Canada, Immigration, Colonization, and they came to the Dominion without financial backing.

The experience of Mr. Dunning, Mr. Hecman and Mr. Poirer are of interest not only because they represent England, Ireland and Scotland, but because they set their feet upon somewhat different political leaders. Mr. Dunning climbed up by way of his prominence in business and agricultural organizations. Mr. Poirer by way of agricultural and municipal experience. Mr. Hecman, by way of municipal and land settlement work.

Mr. Dunning achieved political prominence at an early age. Mr. Hecman in middle life. Mr. Poirer, an old settler. They shared three interesting and quite different stories in immigrant success.

Mr. Poirer came to Canada in 1882 at the age of twenty-two, took up land in a remote part of southwest Manitoba, and in five years was interesting himself actively in local political affairs. He was twenty years over of Pipestone Village eleven years secretary of the Manitoba union of municipalities and finally its president. But he had been in Canada thirty-five years and was sixty-one years of age before he was elected to the House of Commons. The following year he became House leader of the Progressives and in 1908, at the age of sixty-five, became a minister in the King Government.

Among the immigrants who came to Canada in 1882 were James Hecman and Charlie Dunning. Hecman was 28; Dunning only 17. Hecman, born in Ireland but schooled in England, and for a time a professional football player, had been working as an engineer and diver for a construction company in Costa Rica, had been attacked by yellow fever, and had examined the rival claims of Canada and South Africa as to healthier climate. He chose Canada, tried an Alberta ranch, preferred being a locomotive engineer, became an alderman of Kenora, a member of the Association of Locomotive Engineers, and 17 years after coming to Canada was elected to the Ontario Legislature. Six years later he was elected to the Dominion House from a constituency larger in area than Great Britain. And in 1920 he was elected after his arrival in the Dominion, and at the age of 52, he became Minister of Labor.

Dunning's career was interesting. He told the House the other day how, on first coming to the Dominion, he worked for the summer on a western farm at ten dollars a month. The next year his father came. And by working at jobs which never exceeded a dollar a day and took the equivalent of perhaps two dollars, they laid by, in a summer and winter, enough money to bring the mother and five sisters. But at 26, nine years after his arrival, Dunning appears in the picture as vice-president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' association, general manager of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company, and member of the Canadian Council of Agriculture. At 34 years of age he became Provincial Treasurer of Saskatchewan, then Premier of that Province, and in 1920 became the Hecman, a Minister of the Dominion Government—age only 41.

In these three careers there is a lesson of hope for every immigrant and every intrepid immigrant. Not everyone can hope to be a Cabinet Minister, but all can hope for a greater degree of final comfort and prosperity than they are likely to attain elsewhere—Toronto Star.

The Dangerous Fly

One of Most Profitable Disease Spreaders Say Doctors

The physicians are beginning to talk about the fly. They should be a friend to him, he promotes their business. That conscientious physicians are developing a good deal of effort to prevent the spread of disease, and they recognize the fly as one of the most potent disease-spreaders of our region. That was an interesting experience recently reported. They washed a fly and found by count that its body water contained 1,250,000 bacteria that were not in it before the process.

Probably that fly was no different than the average run of the millers of his family. The conclusion is that all flies deserve availing; that all unwanted flies should be kept out of houses by screens, and that all places suspected of breeding flies should be cleaned up.

Trade Within The Empire Is Being Furthered Through Efforts Of The Empire Marketing Board

The development of trade within the Empire is a matter which, in some recent years, has been given the very earnest attention of all those countries making up the British commonwealth of nations. It is felt that the fostering of intra-Empire trade will open up opportunities for trade relations that will not only serve to bring more closely together the various parts of the Empire; but as well, afford such direction to production and consumption of these commodities which the various countries concerned are best suited to produce, that the well-being of the whole Empire will be greatly added to. With this object in view, the Imperial Economic Conference, of which Canada is a member, in 1923, appointed the Imperial Economic Committee to study the possibilities for doing something to stimulate marketing within the Empire. As a result of their first and subsequent meetings, the Empire Marketing Board was created.

The Empire Marketing Board is constituted as an official non-political body, and the membership is so arranged that, though limited for the time being to the United Kingdom, it is representative of the Empire as a whole. The administration of the annual vote of £1,000,000 as granted by the Parliament of the United Kingdom, to the Imperial Economic Committee, and the Empire Marketing Board, are closely related, partly because the Empire Marketing Board is charged with the endeavor to give effect within the terms of the Vote, to many of the recommendations of the Imperial Economic Committee, partly because certain men are members of both bodies.

The Committee proposed in the first instance that a very large proportion of the grant should be devoted to promoting Empire buying in the United Kingdom, and a minor portion for similar work in other parts of the Empire. Later, the Board modified in the direction of an increased expenditure for the assistance of research.

The value of consumer publicity early engaged the attention of the Board, and it was with this object in view that the Board is now creating consumer interest in the matter of Empire trade, expansion within, that the Board is now dealing with a publicity problem both novel and difficult. The Board appreciated the fact that its main function in the field of publicity was to lay a background against which individual governments, or countries, or trading agencies could throw into relief the claims of their own products, in which they were interested. This principle has been permanently adopted by the Board, while the Board is drawing attention in general terms to the proper reasons to particular varieties of Empire produce, it is not only open to undertake or sponsor special campaigns on their behalf. The effect has been that the Board has been engaged less in furthering the sale of individual products directly, the sale of Empire produce, than in creating a consciousness of Empire among a public which might then be free to respond more freely to the direct appeals of other advertisers. Already, there are evident signs up and down Great Britain of a fresh and growing interest in the possibilities of Empire development and trade, and the Board's preference for Empire products where quality and cost are in proper relation.

Consumer interest in the work of the Board is now growing with amazing rapidity. Within recent months, approximately 15,000 schools have applied to the Secretary to be placed on the regular mailing list to receive the Board's posters as often as they are issued. Already 1,140 refreshment or trade premises have been erected in different parts of the country, and a further 100 frames are in course of erection. To indicate the interest and value placed in the Empire publicity scheme, we cite the British Electrical and Allied Manufacturers' Association, which has made proposals involving the erection of special advertising frames in their factories, so that the Board's objective may be distributed to the benefit and education of the vast army of industrial workers. Moving picture theatre panel posters, frames, and other advertising material, as the chief railway stations in London, to reach the eyes and arrest the attention of the millions who come in and out of the largest single conglomeration area in the world and Empire.

The effectiveness of such an elaborate publicity effort in promoting buyer action is quite apparent. The otherwise, it should be repeated that the whole scheme would be worthless if it is in the policy of voluntary preference, we would be advertising inferior goods and this we would be doing. If the goods or products on offer from Empire sources are not adequate, both in quality and volume to meet whatever competition they are likely to encounter.

Those of us who have been privileged to visit the leading manufacturing centres in Great Britain and those of us who have had to do in a practical way with the sale of Canadian products in the British market, realize how sound is the idea that quality and volume represent the only conditions on which the Empire produce may be given a privileged place in the consuming centres of Great Britain. And further, it is necessary that in the matter of volume the same shall be uniform and regular. None understands better than Canada, with her long winter months and her comparatively short growing season, the difficulties encountered in developing uniform production. Nevertheless, regularity of volume is essential to obtaining voluntary preference, and we have to face the issue as it stands; and we are successfully overcoming greater difficulties in time past.

The Empire Marketing Board, as an aid in fostering Empire trade, desires our full support and with the widening of the scope of its activities from time to time its growing work is more and more apparent. It is the more essential that we should give the work of this Board representing the efforts of its constituent countries, and on its behalf, the full measure of our support. On the recommendations made by the Empire Marketing Board to the Imperial Economic Committee, enactments are likely to be made from time to time and it is important that the significance and commercial interest of these measures fully joined on the work of this Committee.

Poison For Insects

Both Liquid and Dry Applications Are Recommended

Practically all insects that live by eating the leaves can be destroyed by poisoning. In his new bulletin No. 99, of the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, Canada, the Hon. Mr. Arthur Gibson, the Dominion Entomologist, recommends both liquid and dry applications. When Paris green is used, 4 ounces of Paris green and half a pound of fresh lime are sufficient for forty ounces of water. When only small quantities are needed a teaspoonful of Paris green and the same quantity of lime will give proper quantity for a gallon of water. For any application of a pound of Paris green should be mixed with 20 pounds of land plaster, shaled lime, or other perfectly dry powder. This preparation should be dusted on the plants early in the morning while the dew is on the leaves. It is seen ways because it is more likely to Paris green because it does no injury to the foliage and will not wash off easily by rains. The powder derived arsenate, and is recommended in the bulletin to be used in the strength of two pounds to 40 gallons of water. When the Paris green is used 4 pounds is the proper quantity to 40 gallons of water. For small garden use one tablespoonful of Paris green arsenate of lead to a gallon of water is about the proper strength.

Co-operation Rather Than Discord

It has been one of Canada's greatest misfortunes that periodically throughout its history campaigns have been inaugurated having for their object the division of the people into rival camps divided by lines of racial and creed difference. Probably in one thing has in the past operated more disastrously to retard the growth and national development of Canada. Time and time again when some large national question was up for decision, the issue turned, not on the merits of the question and the national policy involved, but upon some petty race and creed cry. One of the outstanding cases which is still fresh in the public mind was the Reciprocity election of 1911 when, in the last two weeks of the campaign, Ontario was swept by one of these invidious cries, and tens of thousands of voters were stampeded from support of their economic convictions in favor of free trade and white markets.

Throughout his long career, both in private and public life, Sir Wilfrid Laurier pleaded and strove for unity and concord among all elements of the Canadian people. Hon. Mackenzie King is worthily upholding the same cause, and it is gratifying to note that Hon. R. B. Bennett, as leader of the Conservative Party in the Dominion, is throwing the whole of his eloquent influence in the same direction. Speaking at Magog, in the Eastern Townships of Quebec, last month, Mr. Bennett said: "He who sows seeds of discord and distrust in racial and religious matters is a greater enemy to Canada than one who came with an armed force. You cannot divide a country by ill-will, hatred or contempt." A few days later at Outlook, Mr. Bennett used these words: "The application of the Golden Rule in the life of a nation is quite as important as it is in the life of an individual," and he added that anyone who in the heat of an election sought to raise old animosities, to sow seeds of discord, must not forget his responsibility for such unjust action."

Here in Western Canada it is absolutely vital to the welfare of the country that such won't be heeded. To an ever increasing degree the people of the West are looking to and relying upon co-operative movements and enterprises to solve the economic problems of the country. To date these have attained a measure of success in the various short spurts of time. This has been accomplished by all classes, all creeds, people of all racial descent in town and country, working together. There has been no line of demarcation in the upbuilding of these large co-operative organizations. The West Poles of the West, for example, have been able to secure recent proportions and power had any such foolishness as so often enters into political campaigns been allowed.

The unfortunate fact remains that if the people of a Province or Community are stirred up and divided upon racial or religious lines for partisan political purposes, or for any other reason, the inevitable result is to create suspicions and animosities in the community, or throughout the Province, which makes it extremely difficult, if not impossible, to get all classes together, or hold them together, in a true spirit of co-operation. If the people of the West are divided into Catholic groups and anti-Catholic groups, English-speaking groups and non-English-speaking groups, it naturally becomes impossible for them to come together in the right spirit of friendship and co-operation which is so essential to the maintenance and development of such organizations as the United Farmers, the West Poles, and other co-operative organizations.

These racial and religious campaigns have never got their proponents anywhere, have never accomplished good but have always resulted in harm. They are in no sense constructive but always destructive. Despite any and all claims that may be made for them they are the reverse of British and Canadian ideals of liberty and freedom which, it is our proud boast, is to be found and is guaranteed to all under the British flag.

Not only are these unscrupulous campaigns destructive of a real national spirit but they also retard national growth, development and prosperity; they retard the lack of government, whether in the Dominion and Provinces, or in municipal councils and school boards, difficult and sometimes impossible to run in them they are the reverse of British and Canadian ideals of liberty and freedom which, it is our proud boast, is to be found and is guaranteed to all under the British flag.

Western Canadians, interested in the growth of their country, loyal to its interests, and committed to the policy of co-operation for the common good of all, should most emphatically set their heel upon the ugly head of the serpent of racial and religious ill-will whenever and wherever it may raise its head.

Learning From Canada and United States

Nations, Realizing Futility of Arming Against Each Other
The idea of renouncing war is not unfamiliar to us. War is renounced between England and Scotland, between Britain and the Dominion, between Madras and Bombay, between Bengal and Bihar. The idea of war within the Empire is remote from our thoughts. The apprehension of the thing does not add a single to the estimates. And we may say the same of the relations between Canada and the United States. It is true that war has never been formally renounced by these two neighboring Powers; but in practice it is renounced, and neither country arms against the other. To these conceptions, familiar within the British Empire and characterizing for more than a hundred years the relation of Canada to her southern neighbor, it is now proposed to give a wider extension.

St. Vitus dance is the name generally given to a disease described by medical men as chorea. This trouble usually attacks young children, but it may also be contracted by adults. The most common symptoms are jerking of the face and limbs. As the disease progresses the twitching takes the form of spasms, in which the jerking motion may be confined to the face or the limbs, or it may be general. Frequently the patient is unable to hold anything in the hands or feet, and the spasms may be so severe as to debilitate the nerves and relieve some through an enriched blood supply. The disease is most successful in reaching its trouble through their specific action on the blood, which it enriches and purifies. The following instance is a case of St. Vitus dance. Mr. Williams' Pink Pills in this trouble. Mr. Thomas Brown, Duluth, Minn., says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been in use in my family for years and always with good results. I believe they saved the life of my only son, who was afflicted with St. Vitus dance. The trouble developed into St. Vitus Dance. His legs and arms would jerk and twitch. His speech was affected, and when he came to me a little look telling of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to him. The two time he was used there was in my opinion the best medicine I have ever used, and he was well and strong. I have also given the pills to my growing child, and I know of no better strengthening medicine. I now give them to my children, and I can say as well."

Memorial For Atlantic Flier

Parents Of Hon. Elsie Mackay Give $25,000 Toward Memorial

In memory of their daughter, the Hon. Elsie Mackay, who perished in a trans-Atlantic flight, Viscount and Lady Incheape have given $25,000 ($100,000) to reduce the cost of the memorial. This announcement was made by Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, in the House of Commons. The money will be placed in trust and will be known as the Elsie Mackay fund. The sum given to the nation is the residue of the Hon. Elsie Mackay's estate. The donations will be left to accumulate for fifty years.

The Hon. Elsie Mackay, third daughter of Lord Incheape, British shipping magnate, made the attempt to cross the Atlantic by air with Captain Walter Hinchcliffe. The take-off was on Cranwell aerodrome, Eng., on the morning of March 13. No trace of the two has been found since.

Victims Of Diseased Milk

97 Per Cent. Of Population Is Affected By Tuberculosis

Three out of every four cripples, excluding war and accident cases, are victims of diseased milk. Dr. A. Allen told an audience at the Health and Hygiene Exhibit in Winnipeg recently.

He declared that 97 per cent. of the entire population was affected by tuberculosis, and that this condition was a social as well as a medical problem. Out of every ten, seven would not be visibly affected; two would break down and one would not.

The disease, according to Dr. Allen, came principally from infected milk, and could readily be overcome by pasteurization and compulsory testing of cattle furnishing the supply.

Opportunities Not Exhausted

Many Chances Yet For Immigrants Coming To And From Norway

Bolvag, professor at the University of St. Olaf in Northfield, Minn., said to this country in 1905, in which he was a guest of the author of a great book, "Giants in the Earth," he is famous. Standing on the deck of a steamer on his way home from a visit to Norway he said that the chances for the immigrant coming to America today were greater than when first he came. That is significant. So many young people, native born and alien, feel that pioneering is done. They think the best opportunities have all slipped by. They underestimate the resources and the constantly changing conditions of this world.

'New Canadians' Celebrate

Picturiques and Colorful Folkings and Handicraft Festival

"New Canadians" from fifteen countries of Northern Europe joined in a celebration at Winnipeg recently to illustrate the national arts and culture which they are contributing to Canadian life. The celebration which took the form of a picturique and colorful folk song and handicraft festival, was opened by Sir James Aikins, former Lieutenant Governor of Manitoba, in the rotunda of the Royal Alexandra Hotel, where handicraft exhibits were shown representing typical European market centres.

Settlers in Western Canada from Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Iceland, Germany, France, Belgium, Dutch, Slavia, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Finland, Hungary, Ukraine, Poland and Russia were represented in the display of artistic handicraft. Programs of folk songs and dances were given every afternoon and evening with eight performers appearing in national costumes and attracting large audiences.

The festival is regarded as a unique demonstration of the contributions of the national of Northern Europe to Canadian life and the part which they are taking in the rapid development of Western Canada.

Entertained German Aces

Junior Flier Seen in London by Canadian V.C.

Col. Bligh, the Canadian V.C., gave one of the strangest dinner parties ever held when he entertained in London, eight German aces, with each of whom he had actually fought bitter air duels during the war.

The best record among the Germans was that of Captain Carl Bolle, leader of the famous Bieleke squadron, who shot down thirty-five enemy planes against Bligh's record of seventy-one.

Province Has Large Surplus

The Alberta Provincial Treasurer has just been able to derive a surplus up to the end of the last fiscal year of $707,763, which is $700,000 more than he estimated. The surplus is taken as a reduction of poor times both in the business and agricultural life of the province.

Dressed Poultry Exports

Minister Of Agriculture To Investigate Market In England

Latest sales have been made on the basis of 20 to 25 cents per pound for 3 pound chickens, and 30 cents seaboard for 4½ pound chickens. The total export of chicken this year from January 31 to May 31st, was valued at $11,675. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JULY 15

THE CONVERSION OF SAUL

Golden Text: "Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners."—I Timothy 1:15.

Lesson: Acts 9:1-19a; 22:6-9; 1 Corinthians 15:8.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 110:41-48.

Explanations and Comments

Saul the Zealot, Acts 9:1, 2, "But" indicates the contrast between Saul's zeal in advancing the gospel, which later has justified in Acts 8, and Saul's zeal in retarding it. By means of a vivid metaphor, Luke shows us how Saul's presence brought terror to the hearts of the disciples whom he hunted: "But Saul, yet breathing threatening and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest." "Breathing hard, out of a threatening and murderous desire," the Greek word here warrants that translation. "At Jerusalem the elders were gathered in his effort to give expression to his outraged thoughts concerning the disciples."

From the high priest Saul asked readily obtained permission to enter the synagogue in Damascus, which permitted him to arrest believers of Christ, whether men or women, and bring them bound to Jerusalem. At Jerusalem the elders were gathered to bring before the sanhedrin for trial the man who had been seized in the prison of his heart. Paul strikes out the idea to reverse the maxim of the Crucified Leader of the hated sect, and go into the world and suppress the gospel in every creature.

There are similarities between the course of Paul and that of Felix Dzerzhinsky, the chief of the Russian Terror in Russia. He was the organizer of the Soviet Inquisition, which the revolutionaries maintained their position against their enemies in the name of the revolution. He believed that people must be tortured and executed in the name of the revolution. He had the victims tortured to learn from them the names of their associates, and to strike fear into the hearts of the rest, and so to advance the cause of Communism in Russia, as he undoubtedly he hoped—throughout the world. In contrast to the Communist fanaticism is like religious fanaticism. One of its most singular and significant points is this: this people individual and cruel inquisitor, Dzerzhinsky.

Tragedy Of The Arctic

Eskimo Mother Perishes In Attempt To Save Children From Drowning

A tragedy of the Arctic in which an Eskimo mother sacrificed her life in a vain attempt to save three of her children from drowning was described by Captain Burgess of the steamer Ungava, just back from a cruise along the Labrador coast.

The accident occurred near Repulse. An Eskimo boy and his two sisters were fishing at the edge of the ice when a large floe broke away and drifted out to sea with the helpless children.

The mother saw the predicament of her children just as the six-foot current caught the drift ice and overturned it. The hardy children managed to keep their heads above water by clinging to the edge of the ice. Their mother landed a lucky shot, the only one available, and with a wooden pole to bale set out to the rescue.

In the face of almost insurmountable difficulties the heroic mother took the children from the icy water and started for shore, forced to bale constantly to keep the fragile craft afloat.

Just as safety was almost assured the wooden tub, held by only one hoop at the bottom, fell to pieces in the hands of the baler and before they could reach shallow water the craft sank beneath them. All were drowned.

Erecting Country Elevators

A Busy Season Ahead In Constructing Grain Elevators In Alberta

This summer will witness a great deal of activity on the part of the grain companies as well as the construction of elevators at country points in Alberta to take care of the larger harvests which are expected. Another company, which has just announced its intention to enter on a construction program is the Gillespie Grain Company. According to John Gillespie, president of the firm, plans to erect six new elevators each with a capacity of 40,000 bushels.

Good For Paying Purposes

By means of actual tests in road construction it has been definitely established that the bituminous sands of Northern Alberta can be successfully employed for paving purposes. As the present supply of these sands is being rapidly depleted, the presence and use appear to have solved the problem of permanent paving for road construction in the western provinces.

Big Power Development

Development Of 30,000 Horsepower

On Churchill River Is Promised Initial development of 30,000 horsepower at Island Falls, on the Churchill River, is promised in an announcement made by the Churchill Falls Power Co., Ltd., a company allied with the Whitney interests in developing the 31m Flin Flin mining properties and which supply power to the P.M.A.

While the initial development is not on the scale of some of the bigger power projects on the continent, even in its first stages, the power plant at Island Falls will be far larger than any now existing in Saskatchewan.

At present Regina has the largest power plant in Saskatchewan, with a capacity of 20,000 horsepower. The one to be built at Island Falls, even at the start, could supply any two cities in Saskatchewan with all power needs and could supply Moose Jaw, North Battleford, Prince Albert and Saskatoon. The 30,000 initial horsepower will represent 21,000 kilowatts.

Under terms imposed by the Saskatchewan government, the federal government, having referred the proposition, the Churchill River Power company must reserve one-third of the total power developed for use of the public in Saskatchewan and sell the remainder to the public at a price as low as a cost as charged any company for like use as the reserve power must be supplied as and when required.

The Churchill River Power Company now has a registered office in Regina and from that office has issued an official warning that lands in the vicinity will be flooded and that protests, if any, should be filed on or before July 16, noon.

Market For Alberta Wool

Samples Sent To Japan Were Found Satisfactory

Japan may become one of Alberta's important wool markets. The agricultural department, at Edmonton, has been advised by K. Miyaniishi, of Kobe, Japan, that samples of Alberta wool sent to Japan on request some time ago had been inspected and tested and that the results are highly satisfactory.

Mr. Miyaniishi said that the Japanese Government intend to import wool of the same quality from this province and that it is likely a number of orders will also be given this year by private firms. Further information is asked for as to how many hundred tons can be supplied.

The possible establishment of trade connections with the Japanese market in wool follows a series of inquiries covering the past year or more.

Mr. Knaiss, director of experimental farms for the Manitoba railway, looked somewhat carefully on his recent visit here to the possibility of some business in this line, and Capt. T. Kawakami, who spent a week in Alberta last year, was also much interested in the question of wool, among other western products for trans-Pacific import.

Farmers' Marketing Tour

Canadian National Railway Tour To Great Britain and Denmark, 1928

Before leaving for Denmark it was our privilege to lay upon the table the Committee in Whitehall, a wreath of people in tribute to the Empire's classic ideal. We marched from Horseshoe Avenue to the Congress, escorted by mounted and foot police. The wreath bore the arms of every Province, and was carried by William Guild, of Kenora, Manitoba, and Mr. E. P. Augustine, of Altonville, Ontario, both of whom had lost sons in the war. Recently they were laid at the foot of the stone while we stood bare-headed and in silence. This was our most precious duty, our proudest task, the memory of which, whatever else in this tour may be forgotten, can never fade.

We had time before entering for Harwich to see the Houses of Parliament and Westminster Abbey. One of the most striking features of the beautiful Parliament Buildings is the tower. The Victoria Tower above the royal entrance is said to be the highest square tower in existence. The site of the Houses of Parliament was occupied by an ancient palace which from Edward the Confessor to Henry VIII, was the chief London residence of the reigning sovereign. The present buildings date from between 1340 and 1350 and cost £17,000,000. They cover eight acres and contain 1,100 rooms and two miles of passages.

We passed through both Houses. The House of Commons is more ornate than the House of Lords. At one end are the thrones of the King and the Queen. On the other end the state chair of the Prince of Wales. In the center of the room, shown the Speaker's chair, and places occupied by Mr. Baldwin, Mr. Lloyd George and other British statesmen.

Westminster Hall, dating from William Rufus, is particularly notable as having been the scene of the trials of Sir William Wallace, Robert the Bruce and James I. of Scotland. Seven Bishops. We saw the brass plates marking the spot where the black monarch sat during the trial, also where the bodies of Edward IV. and William Edward Clive lay in state.

There is no nobler building, nor one that visitors from overseas could desire more to see than Westminster Abbey. It is built in the form of a cross, 515 feet in length and 500 feet wide. The transept, where the English King sits Harold has been crowned in Westminster Abbey. The mortal remains of kings, soldiers, statesmen, poets and illustrious men in every walk of life rest beneath its flagstones, and it contains the coffins in soil brought from the battlefields.

The beauty of the Abbey, no less than its historical associations, filled us with awe and reverence. The Chapel of Henry VIII, forming the eastern end, is the finest example in the land of the Tudor Gothic style of architecture. A superb fan tracery vaulting ceiling and the beauty of its coloring glory. Within the gray walls of the Abbey House, a magnificent room of no proportions, the House of Commons was born more than 500 years ago. Near the center of the hall is the Chapel of the Pyx with the crown-locked door where the king's treasure used to be kept, and on the doorman skin still adorning affords tangible evidence of the days when punishment was not so light as now.

After the tour of the Abbey, we saw the Coronation Chair and Stone of Scone, said to have been the Coronation stone of Scotland, and which from time immemorial, but denied off by Edward in 1296.

There the tomb of five kings and six queens lie in state and the monument of Edward the Confessor, erected by Henry VIII, in 1520, originally a golden shrine decorated with jewels and golden images of the saint. Queen Elizabeth and her sister Mary lie side by side in the north side of the Henry VII. Chapel.

Little did we think as we gazed at the tombs of the great, that before we returned from Denmark, there would be brought into the Abbey the body of the Empire's best beloved soldier, or that in Scotland we should lay our humble tribute on his tomb.

Our four-day itinerary in London completed, we left in the evening for Copenhagen, on the mail ship "Jylland," pronounced mercifully not as it is split but as "Joiland." Again fortune favored us for in this ship, we were in our pullover berths en route for Copenhagen, most of us no sleep to hear the train which we and off the rail ferries as we crossed the Øresund and Little Belts which interrupt the journey. By eight a.m. we were settled in our new quarters, the Hotel Compagnie, sending that notice of adventure which seems inseparable from a foreign land.

But we did not feel foreign long in Denmark. The kindness and dryness of the air reminded us of Western Canada. Here too was a northern people who appreciated—strongly. Nevertheless we were not prepared for the welcome, the hospitality we came Mr. Hingstero Holm, secretary of the General Agricultural Council, rendered us on the Council's behalf, nor for the frank discussion on Danish agriculture which took place, followed, to our astonishment, by the presentation of a wealth of printed material on every department of Danish agriculture. But the frankness was explained—"We are today in a position to have a little less competition on the world market, but being, as we are, descendants of the Vikings, we are looking for the

Want Lower Fares For Harvesters

Special railway rates between inter-provincial points as a means of providing a more fluid harvest labor supply in the West was advised at a conference in Winnipeg of the United Farmers of Manitoba, the Federal Government employment service, the Board of Trade and the Provincial Government.

Further recommendation was that the railways arrange the reduced rates so that the harvesters may stay in the West and not be lured to the East. The United Farmers of Manitoba, the Federal Government employment service, the Board of Trade and the Provincial Government.
